MLK Day Means More Than Just an Assembly

By Callie Watkins

Like King, I also have a dream. My dream is that one day all little children will be able to say more about Dr. King than simply the fact that he was a great man who championed peace. Only then will Martin Luther King Day be an e[illegible]lebration. It is important to celebrate life, [illegible] while remembering those that died for [illegible]reedom. Pain and suffering of indi[illegible]uals who toiled for peace cannot be [illegible]en. We need to remember and celebrate [illegible]ople such as Pyllis Wheatley, [illegible]derick Douglass, Marcus Garvey, [illegible]gston Hughes, Rosa Parks, Malcolm

Zakem acknowledged, "It's not an easy thing to stand up and challenge your own friends, teachers, parents, someone you respect and love." Zakem referred to the abhorrent bigotry and ignorance behind racist jokes, later shock-

Our mission: To wear togas, be pulled about in chariots, and catapult marshmallows, all in the name of greater appreciation for the Greece and Rome of antiquity. In the past year, we went to the National Convention and raised clamorem in the publicity competition. This year, we visited the homeland of our ancient pals, Cicero and Vergil, and checked the ancient Roman ruins. Closer to home, we raised money at a benefit concert, where our consul took a solo on a drum reputedly made from the skin of the Nemean Lion. Out Certamen team has kept up its tradition of finishing third in the state competition. To celebrate, we've watched A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, and gobbled up pizza with garum, dormice and radishes. To you, our departing seniors, Valete! Gratias Agimus Vobis.

S.A.D.D. – More than Just Free Pizza

Since my recent enrollment in S.A.D.D. (Students Against Destructive Decisions), I have reevaluated my perception of the dangers drugs and alcohol present to students. This community service club strives to inform students of the dangers and consequences behind decisions some high school students have already made. My friends told me about S.A.D.D., presenting it as a club which meets one night a week in which members talk and eat pizza. I thought, "Hey, sign me up!" Once I started going to the meetings, however, I realized that S.A.D.D. offers more than free food. S.A.D.D. provides a great opportunity to talk with others about issues all high school students face. S.A.D.D. mostly focuses on different abuses such as drug, alcohol, physical, verbal, and sexual abuse. Many students succumb to abuse or harassment without even knowing their other options. The spreading of knowledge and awareness of these problems is the only way Brookline, or any community, can prevent them.

S.A.D.D., in connection with D.A.R.E., goes to different public schools in Brookline to speak with the students about their expectations and the realities of high school. There are optional X-block meetings to prepare the students who go to the grade schools. S.A.D.D.'s greatest challenge is to prepare grade school presenters for the inevitable question, "Have you ever done drugs yourself?" For the students who have never used drugs or alcohol, they can easily say, "No, and neither should you." Yet a problem arises for those students preaching against drugs who have experimented with drugs themselves. No one wants to sound hypocritical. Therefore, can former drug-users speak against drug abuse?

Mediation Program

Mediation is a chance for you to sit face to face and talk, uninterrupted, so each side of the dispute is heard. After the problem is defined, solutions are created, and then evaluated. When an agreement is reached, it is written and signed.

A student mediator is one of your peers who has been trained to conduct the mediation meeting. A team of two student mediators makes sure the mediation session is helpful and fair. There are 35 student mediators and 6 staff mediators at BHS.

The first Drama Society production of the year, Pericles, was recently performed. Pericles was an excellent production directed by drama teacher Mary Mastandrea, recently returned from a year in England studying Shakespeare. Although the acting was quite good, it was the "[set, tech, drummers...] that really brought the play to life.

Ms. Mastandrea and the cast took a number of production risks that turned out extremely well. The two water drummers were played on various nights by junior Jon Kelly, music teacher Carolyn Castellano, and drama teacher Tara Greenpplat, added a lot to the play. They used trash barrels full of water as drums, which set the mood for water themes of the play, especially when they varied the rhythm and intensity. In particular, an intense storm scene combined loud, off-rhythm drumming (splashing?) with flashing lights and sound effects. In

FACULTY

Robert J. Weintraub, Ed. D., Headmaster

Dear Members of the Class of 1999,

You are an extraordinary group of young people (and I'm not saying this because my son Dave is one of you). You are smart, thoughtful, hard-working, kind, lively and funny. You have really honored the best traditions of Brookline High School — through your high academic achievement and your decency. And you will go down in BHS history as the "Renovation Generation."

As we approach the next millennium, I can't imagine a better group of people to become the citizens and leaders of the 21st Century.

I have truly enjoyed our four years together — spending time in your classes, at your athletic contests, at your performances, and in the corridors, cafeteria, Quadrangle, Atrium, and out front on Greenough Street. I hope that you will always consider Brookline High as one of your homes.

Sincerely,

Dr. Weintraub

Stephen J. Barrasso, Assistant Headmaster

Best Wishes

AIN'T THAT BAD?

By Crystal Melonie Smith

Braids, cornrows, plaits in black styles
Our African hair just going wild
Ain't that bad?

Our jazzy talk out smooth Egyptian walk
Our way of how we dance and rock
Ain't that bad?

Harriet Tubman rescuing slaves
Freed 1000 in just a few days
Ain't that bad?

Skin tone from caramel to ebony
Just like a rainbow in the sky you can see
Ain't that bad?

Sweet potato pie, cornbread and roast beef
A macaroni and fried chicken feast
Ain't that bad?

Singing praises, Amazing Graces
Rapping and tapping, different bodies, beautiful faces
Ain't that bad?

Innovations on light, telephone and gas masks
Creation of bridges, cities, and trucks that travel very fast
Ain't that bad?

Smart, Creative, Brave, Beautiful
You said it right, that's our black people
Ain't that bad?!

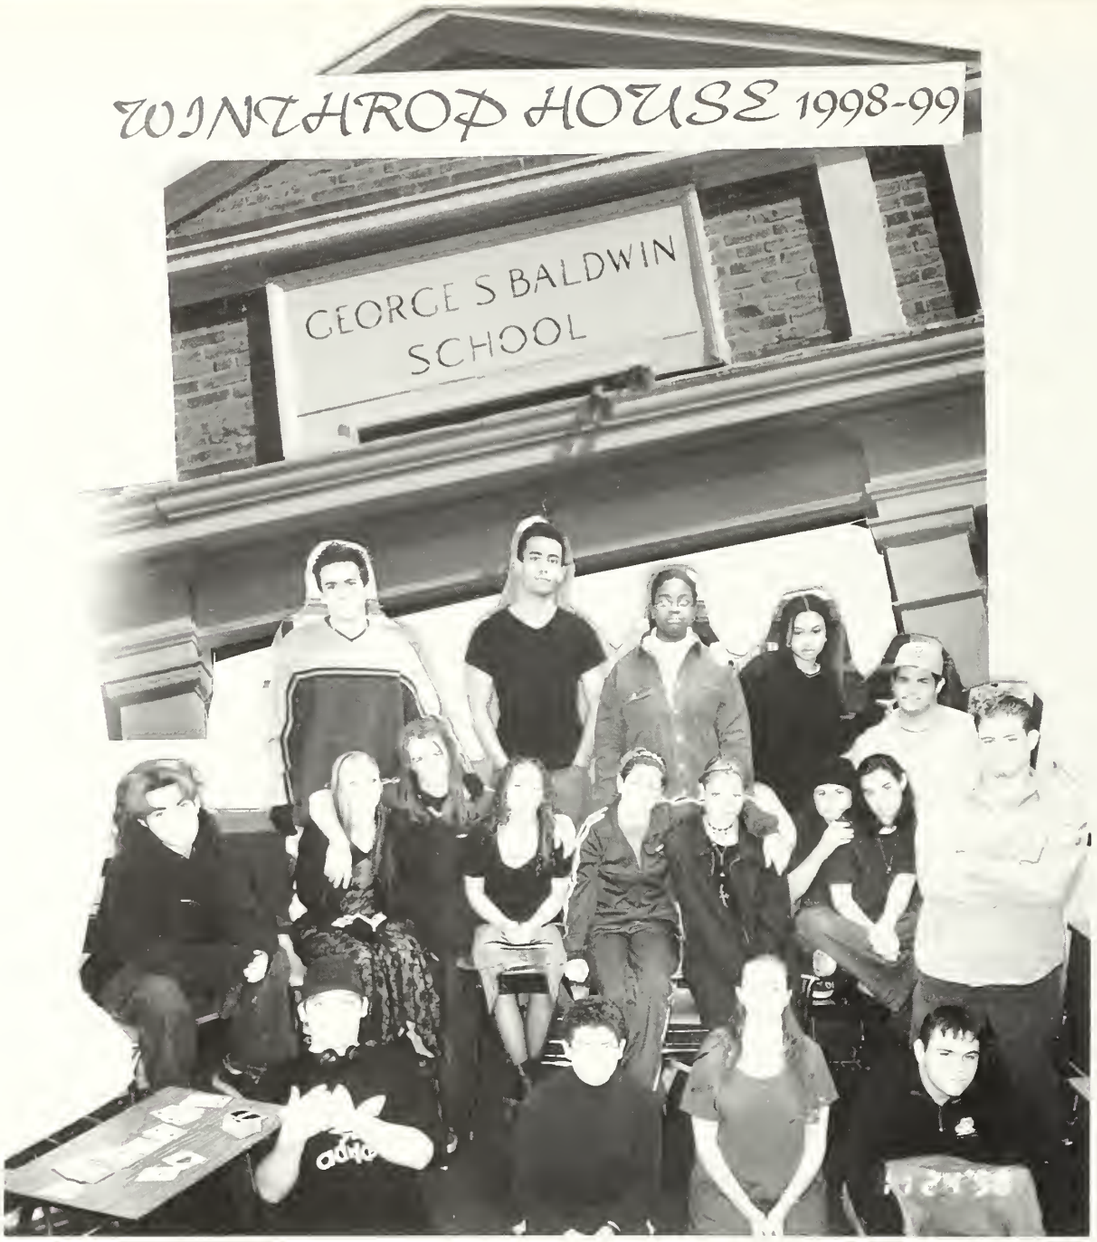
Winthrop House is filled with normal people, but sometimes we have crazy thoughts.

WINTHROP HOUSE 1998-99



Success is how high you bounce when you hit bottom.

Freedom, after all, is simply being able to live with the consequences of your decisions. Slow down, simplify and be kind

Megan receives seals of approval!

Congratulations for all your hard work!

Dear Deborah,
Use the skills you have learned at BHS to do great things. We know you can. Have the confidence to try anything you want. Your family will always support you.
Love, Mom and Dad

Dear Deb,
There are three kinds of people in this world, those who can count and those who can't. You're one of those who can't and would wait for the third type. It's okay there's one in every family. I love you, thanks for everything.
Love,
Jessie

Dear Deb,
I think you're a great Sister. My Sister Shops alot. She should be spending more time on homework then shoping.

I love her!

Love
Jeanine

Seth,

You are the best son, brother, and friend anyone could ever have - in fact, you're just THE BEST!

Love,

REBECCA MAE

Love and congratulations,

Mom, Dad, and Zachary

To Danny,
May God bless and keep you always,
May your wishes all come true,
May you always do for others
and let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the stars,
And climb on every rung.
And may you stay forever young.

May your hands always be busy,
May your feet always be swift,
May you have a strong foundation
when the winds of changes shift.
May your heart always be joyful,
May your song always be sung.
And may you stay forever young. (B.Dylan)
We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Diana

'To succeed means that you may have to step out of line and march to the sound of your own drummer." (K.D.)

All our love and prayers,
Mom, Dad, Nahid and Ahmed.

Chris,
Follow your dreams
We'll always be with you
Love Mom, Papa and Will

And Pooh said
Are you ready?
And Alex said
For what?
And the bear said
For your next adventure

She paused for a moment
then said
Yes, I'm ready.

To: Esinam...Seek your dream variations!

Dream Variations

To fling my arms wide
In some place in the sun,
To whirl and to dance
Till the white day is done.
Then rest at cool evening
Beneath a tall tree
While night comes on gently,
Dark like me
That is my dream!

To fling my arms wide
In the face of the sun
Dance! Whirl! Whirl!
Till the quick day is done.
Rest at pale evening...
A tall, slim tree...
Night coming tenderly
Black like me.

Dear Matt,

Think about it. Baker School and Brookline High. Thousands of classes, hours of daycare, hundreds of soccer and basketball games, golf matches, and of course, more baseball games than any of us can count. There have been grades and better grades, some very late nights, good seasons and more challenging ones. Times when we were there for you and regrettably even some that we weren't...although you always came through.

Through it all you've been a loving son, a good friend to many and our pride and joy. We are excited about your college future. Just keep being you, and your success will be guaranteed.

We love you so much, Mom & Dad

Matt-

Congratulations on all you've done at BHS. Best Wishes in the future. May all your dreams come true. We're so proud of you, Congratulations!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Leanne and Kristen

Jennie,

Congratulations!
